

Behind the Wall

Synopsis:

1974. Heike and Ulrich Molitor are caught as they try to escape communist East Germany. The regime gives them an ultimatum: either they go to jail and their two young children are given up for adoption, or they leave for West Germany with only their seven-year-old boy. Either way, two-year-old Miriam must stay behind...

1989. Miriam, now called Rebecca, has become a pretty, fun-loving teen and loves her adoptive parents. But she has no idea that she is adopted, and no idea that in West Berlin, another couple has been writing her letters for several years now – letters that she has never received, in a hoax staged by the Stasi to force the girl's parents into spying for the GDR. But the Wall is about to crumble...
